

Bar & QR Codes

Bar Codes have been around for over 50 years but it takes someone who knows their way around this time tested tracking device to make sure that what goes on your packaging will match what has been installed in your retailer's data base.

From cutting edge technology like QR Codes to Bar Codes, Parachuting Penguins has the expertise to work with all forms of retail code such as new packaging concepts and web based marketing campaigns.

All of this can be accomplished by uploading through our secure website so that we can get your project done quickly and accurately.
